Highland Copper Company Inc. ("Highland") has developed this website for your general information and makes no representation about the information contained in this website. Highland may, at any time, and without notice or liability, change, suspend, discontinue or even terminate any aspect of any feature of this website. Furthermore, you may not modify or reproduce in any form, electronic or otherwise, any information on this site, except for personal use, unless you have obtained our express permission.

No Advice

The information, materials or documents posted on this website are for information only and, unless otherwise expressly stated herein, do not constitute an offer, invitation, solicitation or advice to anyone, in any jurisdiction, to purchase, hold or sell securities of Highland.

Risks and Uncertainties

Highland is subject to a number of significant risks and uncertainties due to the nature of its business and its financial situation. These risks and uncertainties could have a significant negative impact on Highland's overall operations and financial condition. An investment in the securities of Highland involves significant risks and should be considered speculative. For additional information, refer to the risks and uncertainties described in Highland's disclosure documents filed under Highland's profile on SEDAR at www.sedar.com.

Qualified Person

This website contains information of a scientific or technical nature. In accordance with National Instrument 43-101 - Standards of Disclosure for Mineral Projects, Denis Miville-Deschenes, P. Eng., Highland's President and CEO, is the "qualified person" who has reviewed and approved the scientific and technical information on this website.

Cautionary Note to United States Investors

Highland advises U.S. investors that this website may contain the terms "inferred", "indicated" and "measured" "resources", which are recognized and required by NI 43-101 under Canadian regulations, but not recognized by the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC"). The SEC requires mining companies in their filings with the SEC to disclose only those mineral deposits that a company can economically and legally extract or produce. "Inferred resources" have a great amount of uncertainty as to their existence, and great uncertainty as to their economic and legal feasibility. It cannot be assumed that all or any part of an "inferred resource" will ever be upgraded to a higher category. U.S. investors are cautioned not to assume that all or part of an inferred resource exists, or is economically or legally mineable. U.S. Investors are also cautioned not to assume that all or any part of mineral deposits in the "measured" or "indicated" resource categories will ever be converted into reserves.

This website may also contain information about adjacent properties on which we have no right to explore or mine. We advise US investors that the SEC's mining guidelines strictly prohibit information of this type in documents filed with the SEC. US investors are cautioned that mineral deposits on adjacent properties are not indicative of mineral deposits on our properties.

Forward-Looking Information

This website contains certain forward-looking information or statements within the meaning of applicable Canadian and US securities legislation. Forward-looking statements relate to future events or future performance and are frequently identified by the use of words such as "plans", "expects", "scheduled", "estimates", "forecasts", "intends", "anticipates" or "believes", or variations of such words and phrases or information that certain actions, events or results "may", "could", "would", "might" or "will be taken", "occur" or "be achieved" or the negative of these terms or comparable terminology.

Forward-looking statements are based on a number of assumptions that management believes to be reasonable at the time the statements are made. By their very nature, forward-looking statements involve known and unknown risks, uncertainties and other factors which may cause the actual results, performance or achievements of Highland to be materially different from any future results, performance or achievements expressed or implied by the forward-looking statements. Such factors include, among others, Highland's ability to raise the funds required to pursue its operations and execute its corporate strategy and plans, changes in project parameters as plans continue to be refined; future prices of metals; possible variations in mineral reserves and resources and other factors inherent to the exploration and development of mineral properties. You should refer to the risks described in Highland's disclosure documents, including the most recent management's discussion and analysis, filed under Highland's profile on SEDAR at www.sedar.com. Highland disclaims any intention or obligation to update or revise any forward-looking statements whether as a result of new information, future events or otherwise, except as required by applicable law.
